

Personal Style Assessment

This assessment is not intended for psychological analysis or to explore a person's inner world. This assessment is designed to reflect how God has wired you and used you in the past and present in relation to other people.

Record your responses to the statements below. Answer each statement according to whether it accurately describes you as you relate to people. Don't spend a lot of time thinking about each statement. Frequently the "gut response" answer is the most accurate. There are no right or wrong answers and no preferred style. In fact, many people have multiple styles in varying amounts.

Use the following scale:

3 - Very much like me. True 75%+ of the time of me and I can immediately think of an example of this being me.

2 - Somewhat like me. True 50% of the time. Examples come to mind, but it takes a moment or two.

1 - Very little like me. True 25% of the time and I must really think of examples, and they are few and far between.

0 - Not at all like me. Never true of me. This statement doesn't appeal to me at all and maybe even appalls me.

1. ____ In conversations, I like to speak my mind without much small talk or beating around the bush.
2. ____ I have a hard time getting off the internet, or getting out of bookstores or libraries without getting books.
3. ____ I often tell stories about my personal experiences to illustrate my point.
4. ____ I am a "people person" who believes friendship is one of the most important things in life.
5. ____ When I make plans to do things, I really like including or adding new people.
6. ____ I see needs in people's lives that others often overlook.
7. ____ I do not shy away from putting a person on the spot in a conversation when I think it is necessary.
8. ____ I tend to analyze things and think things through.
9. ____ I often identify with others by using phrases like "I used to think that, too" or "I have felt that way before."
10. ____ People tell me that I make new friends easily.
11. ____ To be honest, even if I feel I know the answers, I would rather have someone else who I think is more knowledgeable explain things to others.
12. ____ Helping other people in tangible ways makes me feel good.
13. ____ I do not have a problem confronting people with the truth.
14. ____ In conversations, I like to ask people questions about what they believe and why they believe it.
15. ____ When I tell stories, I find people are interested in what I say and the way I say it.

16. _____ I would rather talk to people about what is going on in their lives than discuss and discover the details of their beliefs.
17. _____ If I knew of a good event that my friends would enjoy, I would work really hard to get them to attend it with me.
18. _____ I prefer to express love through my actions more than my words.
19. _____ I believe in completely telling the truth, even when it hurts.
20. _____ I enjoy discussions and debates on spiritual questions and social issues.
21. _____ I intentionally share my mistakes with others when it will help them relate to the solutions I have found and hopefully avoid making the same errors.
22. _____ I prefer getting into discussions concerning a person's life before ever dealing with the details of his or her beliefs.
23. _____ I tend to go to events with other people whom I have actually invited.
24. _____ I believe that showing people I care through my actions will make them more likely to want to listen to what I have to say.
25. _____ A motto that would fit me is, "Make a difference or make a mess, but at least do something."
26. _____ I often get frustrated with people when they use weak arguments or poor logic.
27. _____ People seem interested in hearing stories about the things that have happened in my life.
28. _____ I enjoy long talks (and long walks, if possible) with my friends.
29. _____ Often when I read, or hear, or see something that I really like, I immediately think of other people I know who would enjoy it, appreciate it, or get something out of it.
30. _____ I feel most comfortable doing something practical for someone.
31. _____ I sometimes get in trouble for the abrupt and insensitive way I interact with others.
32. _____ I like to get at the underlying reasons for opinions people hold and why they believe the things they do.
33. _____ Thinking about what has happened in my life really makes me want to tell others about it.
34. _____ People generally consider me to be a friendly, sensitive, and caring type of person.
35. _____ A highlight of my week would be to go somewhere special and have someone go along with me.
36. _____ I'd rather work with my hands than my head.
